The Access to Justice Public Interest Fair celebrates our philosophy of building bridges among like-minded organizations and individuals. It is an awareness-raising event that gives groups working for social justice an invaluable opportunity to network with one another while introducing their work to the public and promoting job and volunteer possibilities. There is an amazing number of organizations and educational institutions in the area, with clinical and community legal education (CLE) programs working to provide greater access to justice in the societies they serve, whether it be through access to legal education and support, sustainable farming development programs, higher educational programs, and much more. In Chiang Mai alone, there are a large number of organizations and educational institutions passionately working toward a similar goal. Holding such an event for organizations and educational institutions working not only in Chiang Mai but throughout the region promotes solidarity, growth, and empowerment within the community.
